DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The Information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 04/27/2004 is acknowledged by Examiner. The IDS meets the requirements of 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98 and therefore the references there in have been considered.

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "38" has been used to designate both free end and stitches. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1-3, 5-7,9-32 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Modglin (6,666,838).

Modglin discloses a brace (10) adapted to mount externally of a person's torso in order to support/sheet the person's back, the brace comprises a support piece/sheath (64,26) including an elongated central portion (64,26) and a plurality of pairs of oppositely projecting lobe portions (58,56) extending laterally of said central portion, said lobe portions constructed of a stiff yet bendable material, and a support band sized and adapted to encircle the person's torso and operative to releasably secure said support piece alongside the person's back when in a mounted state, said support band constructed of a flexible material (column 1 line 60) and having opposite end portion provided with cooperative fasteners (66,92) whereby said end portions may be releasably secured together in a fastened state.

With respect to claims 2,3,14 and 32 Modglin discloses device made of flexible bendable material. With respect to the limitation of the claims flexible material of Modglin's device to use it to better fit and flexibility of device around user's torso.

With respect to claims 5-6,15-21 and 23-24 Modglin discloses sleeves and pouches (32,34) connected with strip material (106). With respect to the limitation of the "sleeve" the examiner interpreted the pockets (32,34) (column 1 lines 62-67 and column 2 lines 1-17) of Modglin as sleeves and pouches, since these pockets of Modglin are made of flexible, breathable material and a pouch inherently includes an interior portion (column 2 line 4-5). With respect to the limitation of the "stretchable material" the examiner interpreted flexible, breathable material to be made of any group of fabrics consist of non-stretchy fabrics and resilient stretchy fabrics that is required by claim 15. As required by claim 21, the pocket is provided with a releasable pouch closure (28). As required by claim 20 pouch and said end portions are formed of a common material.

With respect to claim 25 Modglin inherently discloses device sheath interior has a periphery contoured to the shape of said support piece (see fig 3).

With respect to claim 22 Modglin discloses said fasteners permit size adjustment of said band (column 1 lines 38-40).

With respect to claims 7 Modglin discloses said sleeves are in parallel spaced relation to one another.

With respect to claims 9 and 27 Modglin discloses lobe portions of each said pair extend equidistantly of said central portion (see fig 3).

With respect to claims 10 and 28 Modglin discloses said lobe portions being formed by notches located between adjacent ones of said lobe portions (42,44).

With respect to claims 11 and 29 Modglin discloses at least three pairs of lobe portions, there being a primary lobe portions (64) and two secondary lobe (56,34 and 58,32) portions, one on either side of said primary pair of lobe portions.

With respect to claims 12 and 30 Modglin discloses primary portion (64) is greater than secondary lobe portions (56,58) (see fig 3).

With respect to claims 13 and 31 Modglin discloses central portion (64) is wider than secondary lobe portions (56,58) (see fig 3).

With respect to claim 14 Modglin discloses stiff yet bendable material is plastic (column 4 lines 15-19).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 4 and 8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Modglin (6,666,838) in view of Petty-Saphon (5,737,774).

Modglin (6,666,838) substantially discloses the invention as claimed, see rejection to claims 1-3, 5-7, 9-32 above; however, Modglin does not specifically disclose that said strips extend perpendicularly to central portion.

However Petty-Saphon teaches a back support with strips extending perpendicularly to said central portion.

At the time of the invention, it would have been an obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to modify the device of Modglin with the strips of Petty-Saphon (element 1) to better support the back brace.

With respect to claim 8, the back brace with the strips are of a different width than another of said strips, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the strips of Modglin and Petty-Saphon, as a matter of design choice to make the strips of different width, since applicant has not disclosed that strips having same width solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with strips with different width.
